“According to ever-changing manpower requirements from day to day, Kal-Vin is able to generate from five to twenty-five sheet rockers on demand. Kal-Vin has met all tight deadlines throughout our project consisting of three buildings of five stories each.”

“To date my working relationship with Kal-Vin as our drywall and framing subcontractor has been exemplary, their attention to detail and quick turn-around time with pricing, submittals, requested information and LEED documentation, to name a few, is top notch. Other contractors should look to them for tips on how to get a job done right.”

“With Kal-Vin’s innovative ideas to accelerate construction, they were able to work effectively during the winter months without tenting. Using a new type of drywall and pre-fabricated EIFS they were able to install before roof completion.”

“Their response time and planning for jobsite schedule and expectations along with material delivery is right on key and makes coordination seem effortless.”
